The University of Colorado

Authorized by an act of the first territorial legislature in 1861 and opened on Sept. 5, 1877, the University of Colorado is located at Boulder, 27 miles northwest of Denver via a new four-lane turnpike.

The enrollment on the Boulder campus has grown from an original 44 in 1877 to an expected 20,000 in 1971 with an additional 13,000 students studying at the Medical Center (Denver campus) and at the Denver, Colorado Springs, and Grand Junction centers.

Although the main campus in Boulder is located far inland at the foot of the rugged Rocky Mountains, its students come from all over the world. Every state in the Union is represented in the student body, along with 38 foreign countries and all U.S. possessions.

The campus setting and its beautiful architecture are major attractions, but the main attraction for students is the academic atmosphere. In Boulder the West blends not only with the East but with the whole world. Like the other big universities in the Rocky Mountain area, the University affords a refreshing, lively academic approach to courses and research.

The University of Colorado is composed of 13 schools and colleges, and a student can major in any one of 120 fields. The schools and colleges are Arts and Sciences, Business, Dentistry, Education, Engineering, Environmental Design, Graduate, Journalism, Law, Nursing, Medicine, Music, and Pharmacy.

The University is governed by an independent board of six elected Regents, the President, and the Faculty Senate.

In keeping with its cosmopolitan atmosphere and its sense of responsibility to the community, the University provides facilities and sponsorship for a broad range of student activities. In addition, the student governing body, Associated Students of the University of Colorado, is extremely active and influential. The students also publish their own yearbook and daily newspapers.

BIG TEN NICKNAMES

Their Followers Still Thrill to These Names of Legend and Derring-Do

By Walt Paulison

(Mr. Paulison served as Sports Information Director at Northwestern from 1926 until retirement in 1969)

What's in a name?

For millions of followers of Big Ten athletics, a name — especially a nickname — is important indeed. Wolverines, Wildcats, Gophers, Illini, Hoosiers, Spartans, Boilermakers, Badgers, Buckeyes — they are names of legend and derring-do.

But what about the derivation of these familiar nicknames? How did they come to be applied? In a number of instances the origins are obscure, in others lost in history and folklore. Michigan teams adopted the state nickname "Wolverines" when football was introduced in 1869. But there is considerable mystery as to how the state acquired the nickname in the first place. There is no clear-cut evidence that Wolverines ever existed in the state in any considerable numbers, and if they did they have been extinct for many years. But, according to zoologists, the animal is a ferocious battler, and the symbolism is sufficient to satisfy Michigan fans.

Natives of Indiana have long been known as Hoosiers, and so have teams at the state university in Bloomington. But the derivation of the word has never been established to the satisfaction of everybody.

Some sources say it stems from a man named Hoosier who hired residents of the state to load barges on the Ohio river in the early 1800's. Another historian claims the term is a Southern or dialectic word meaning "rude or uncouth, rustic individual." That still could apply to Mr. Hoosier's hired hands.

The Buckeye tree, native to Ohio, is the official state tree and the source of the nickname "Buckeyes" for Ohio State teams. The Indians called the tree "Hetuck," meaning eye of the buck, which resembled the seed of the buckeye. "Ohio" is an Indian word meaning "great," and the Buckeyes have been that too.

Iowa's "Hawkeyes" derive from a character in James Fennimore Cooper's "The Last of the Mohicans." In the novel, the Indians bestowed the name "Hawkeye" on a white scout who lived and hunted with them.

In 1832, the territory of Iowa adopted the nickname through the efforts of Judge David Borer and James Edwards, a newspaper publisher. Nowhere is there any mention of a hawk, but university athletic insignia portrays a beady-eyed, belligerent bird, later to become known as "Herky the Hawk."

The state of Illinois was named for an Indian tribe — Illini — which once inhabited the area. The term meant "Brave Men." Since the start of athletics at the state university in the late 1800's, the teams have been called the "Illini," and more recently "The Fighting Illini."

Sports writers are credited with originating the nicknames for Michigan State and Northwestern teams. George Alderton, sports editor of the Lansing Journal, first used the name "Spartans" while covering the Michigan State baseball team's southern trip in 1926. Other publications quickly picked up the term and it became official when a monument of a Spartan warrior was erected on the campus.

In 1924, Wallace Abbey, a sports writer for the Chicago Tribune, likened the Northwestern football team to a "Purple wall of wildcats," in a goal line stand against Chicago. The name "Wildcats" captured popular fancy and such previous designations "Purple" and "Fighting Methodists" went into discard.

"Boilermakers" was first applied to Purdue teams as a term of derision. In 1889, in a game with Wabash College, the more sophisticated Wabash students called their rivals from the state engineering and agriculture school "blacksmiths," "hayseeds" and "boilermakers." The last term both amused and intrigued Purdue followers, who began using it in referring to themselves, and it ultimately became the official nickname.

Early Minnesota settlers debated the merits of the beaver and the gopher as a choice for the state's nickname. Historians say the gopher advocates won because of a widely circulated political cartoon that used the figure of a gopher. And that's why Minnesota teams are known as the "Gophers" instead of the "Beavers."

Wisconsin's cocky "Bucky Badger" also derives from its state nickname, which came into use to describe the working habits of the lead miners who once inhabited the southwestern portion of the state. The miners "dug like badgers," according to an historian of the period. Whether that be fact or legend matters not to Wisconsin fans as they sing with gusto, "If you want to be a Badger, just come along with me."

COLD STORAGE

This handy 12-pack is actually a disposable icebox. It stores twelve cans of good Stroh's Beer. Once you chill the pack, the beer inside stays cold for hours.

And once you finish the beer, the inside makes a neat, disposable container for storing the empties. Try the Stroh's Iceless Icebox this weekend. It keeps its cool.

Honored for Distinguished Teaching

Eight Ohio State University faculty members received Alumni Awards for Distinguished Teaching in 1970-71. Left to right, front row, Paul A. Colinvaux, zoology; Hollis N. Matson, health education; Johanna S. Belkin, German; B. William Poland, music. Back row, Morgan L. Shipman, law; Jack H. Cline, animal science; David Hothersall, psychology, and William F. Cowen, Jr., forestry. The Alumni Association and Development Fund have sponsored the award for 12 years.

Prof. Colinvaux joined the faculty in 1964 after receiving his B.A. and M.S. degrees from Cambridge University in 1956 and 1960. He holds a Ph.D. from Duke University in 1962. He received a Guggenheim Fellowship for the year of 1971-72 and was named an American Man of Science in 1964.

Miss Matson became a member of the faculty in 1968. She received her bachelor's and master's degrees in health and physical education from Mankato State College in 1963 and 1967.

Mrs. Belkin joined the faculty in 1963 after receiving her doctorate in German from the university. She completed her other academic work at the University of Munich, Germany.

Prof. Poland has been on the faculty since 1949. He was the first recipient of a Ph.D. awarded by the university for music. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Michigan in 1948 and 1949.

Prof. Shipman joined the faculty in 1969. He received his bachelor of business administration degree in 1955 and his LL.B. degree in 1958 from the University of Texas before joining a law firm in Washington, D.C.

Prof. Cline received three degrees, B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. from Ohio State, completing his studies in 1956. He was appointed assistant professor in 1957 and has been a full professor since 1966.

Prof. Hothersall joined the faculty in 1968 after receiving his Ph.D. from the University of Tennessee. He previously received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, South Africa.

Prof. Cowen joined the faculty in 1959 after receiving his bachelor's degree from Rhode Island State College and master's degree from Yale University. Before coming to Ohio State, Prof. Cowen was chief forester of a 16,000 acre forest at Scituate, R.I.

Now, the latest in sports. Brought to you by Marathon.

Marathon is proud to sponsor some of the most exciting athletic events in the country. Like Notre Dame football and Indiana and Kentucky basketball. And the minor league hockey action of the Toledo Hornets, Flint Generals, Ft. Wayne Komets and Dayton Gems.

We're heavy in the majors, too, bringing the Detroit fans the play-by-play of their Lions, Pistons, and Red Wings; the Cincinnati fans their Reds, Royals and Bengals; and in Indiana we bring you the Indiana Pacers.

Not to mention non-team events. Like auto racing, the UGA Golf Tournament and ski reports.

We'd like to see you get out and support your favorite teams often. But when you can't, catch the action on radio or TV. Brought to you by one of the best sports in your neighborhood—your local Marathon dealer. He offers guaranteed

Marathon petroleum products and automotive services, or your money back. And that's a very sporting offer.

As a Matter of Fact...

(Some interesting facts about Ohio State, presented by the Alumni Association)

■ Ohio State has been playing football since 1890, and has been a member of the Big Ten since 1913. The Buckeyes have been Conference champs 15 times and have won the national football crown four times, and last season shared possession of the MacArthur Bowl with Texas.

■ Ohio State has gone to the Rose Bowl six times, more than any other Big Ten team, and has won four games (1950, 1955, 1958 and 1969) in Pasadena. They lost the first time in 1921.

■ The Buckeyes have played arch-rivals Michigan 67 times, more than they've played anyone else. The series stands at 25 wins for Ohio State and 38 for Michigan, with four ties. Twenty-one of Michigan's victories came before 1935.

■ Ohio State's official alumni organization, The Ohio State University Association, is the second largest dues-paying alumni association in the nation, and the largest such organization in the Big Ten, with some 50,000 members.

■ Ohio Stadium, built through private donations by some 13,000 alumni and friends, was completed in 1922—after only 13 months of work powered mostly by horses and steam engines. A series of Ralph Fanning watercolors depicting the stadium construction is on display in Alumni House in the Center for Tomorrow, on Olentangy River Road, just across the river and north of the stadium. Stop by after the game.

■ The Ohio State University was founded as The Ohio Agricultural and Mechanical College in 1870 as a land grant college. The first class was composed of six men. Today the University has grown to well over 45,000 students in Columbus, one of the largest schools in the nation.

■ Woody Hayes has won more games and Big Ten titles (seven) than any other coach in the Conference since he came to Ohio State in 1951. At the beginning of the 1971 season, his record stood at 134 wins, 43 losses and seven ties.

■ The Ohio State Alumni Association coordinates an active alumni club program in many areas across the state and nation—probably with a chapter in your area. They'd like to get to know you.

■ Ohio State has had 52 All-Americans in 81 years of football, the first being Chic Harley and Bob Karch in 1916.

■ Some 9,000 Alumni Association members have become life members, assuring them membership benefits indefinitely without annual dues payments. Easy quarterly payments can be arranged.

■ Carroll C. Widdoes has the best won-lost percentage of the 19 coaches who have held the head football post at Ohio State. In his two seasons at Ohio State, 1944 and 1945, Widdoes won 16 and lost 2 for an .889 average.

■ Want to know more? Membership in the Alumni Association includes a subscription to The Ohio State University Monthly, the alumni magazine that will keep you in touch regularly with the University. Why not join today? Stop by Alumni House, while traffic clears, on your way home.

WARREN A. WANDLING AGENCY

Warren A. Wandling
Agency Manager - Columbus

Building an organization is much like building a football team. You secure key personnel and use good coaching and concentrate on the fundamentals of the game, progress will appear and championship form can be attained.

Here, in our agency, we have key personnel who have done a great job of recruiting quality people. Pictured on this page are some of the key personnel who do an excellent job of coaching and guiding our trainees into becoming successful, established career life underwriters. An opportunity with the Equitable can offer you lifetime security, unprecedented freedom and much responsibility. If you are a person who has a competitive background, has been serious about success and truly desires an opportunity—not a job—why not call Warren A. Wandling or one of the other agency coaches of the Wandling Agency.

A GREAT RUNNER.

You expect a little car to be a good sprinter. Nimble, light on its feet, fine for short runs around town.

Vega is all that.

But what sets Vega apart is that it's one little car that's good on long runs too.

One reason is its relatively large 140-cubic-inch overhead cam engine. It can cruise comfortably at turnpike speeds without straining, and with power to spare.

Vega is built low to the ground, and wide, so it takes curves without a lot of lean and hangs onto a windy highway like it weighed a whole lot more.

The steering is easy. Yet firm and reassuring on straight stretches.

What we're saying is, for an economy car, Vega sure feels a lot like a sports car.

Get into one soon and see. It'll give you a good run for your money.

Great runner meets great runner. Former Heisman Trophy winner O.J. Simpson behind the wheel of a Vega Hatchback Coupe.

Buckle your seat and shoulder belts.
It's an idea you can live with.
